NOTE TO: Director of Central Intelligence
Deputy Director of Central Intelligence
Acting Deputy Director of Intelligence

FROM: [REDACTED]
Chief, Arms Control Intelligence Staff

SUBJECT: Background Information [REDACTED]

1. This note responds to your request earlier today for an overview of the resources in this Agency now providing support in the broad, generic category entitled arms control intelligence. [REDACTED]

2. Attached is a table which provides my answer to your question in the right hand column and also tries to give you comparable figures for June 1982. In most but not all cases, the numbers were created with the help of managers from these entities. Even so, these numbers in a couple of spots are guesses, were not "coordinated", and are likely to change at least a bit. We are working to refine the numbers. I think it is clear that the Agency's effort, broadly speaking, has grown [REDACTED] the effort in ACIS has grown [REDACTED]

3. Looking to the future, I think our support overall will have to grow a bit more. The reasons are: verification and compliance, which are separate but related topics, will soon become hotter than ever. [REDACTED]

4. With respect to the Intelligence Community at large, I am skeptical that comparable growth has occurred in other Agencies. The fact is that we have not surveyed them about this issue (i.e., growth) but my intuition tells me that no significant growth has occurred at DIA, INR, and NSA, but I could be wrong. If you want me to work on this, please let me know. [REDACTED]

5. I hope this is helpful. If there is more I can do to assist you here, please call and let me know. [REDACTED]
